1: Management Fees: On the first-year anniversary of the ETF’s inception date and the filing of financial statements, the management expense ratio (“MER”) will be based on total expenses, including sales tax (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs), for the stated period for each ETF and will be expressed as an annualized percentage of each ETF’s daily average net asset value during the period. The trailing commission is paid out of the management fee, which is part of the MER. Forstrong currently waives or absorbs fees and expenses of the ETF to cap annual management fees and other expenses at 3%. Forstrong may, in its discretion, change or discontinue this practice at any time, without notice.

2: Risk Rating: Risk Rating is based on how much the ETF’s returns have changed from year to year. It doesn’t tell you how volatile the ETF will be in the future. The rating can change overtime. An ETF with a low risk rating can still lose money. For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the ETF’s returns, see the ETF’s simplified prospectus.
